WHAT'S NEW FOR 2019

The team at Scalextric would like to offer a very warm welcome to 2019 with the new Scalextric product range. As always, we endeavour to offer something for everyone from all sides of the hobby, corners of the world, general interests and racing desires and capabilities.

For those new to Scalextric we have developed a whole new track system for My First Scalextric and Micro Scalextric. Plus, this just got hotter with the inclusion of the Looney Tunes, Wacky Races and Justice League sets and solo vehicles, and that's not all folks! In 1:32 scale we have a plethora of new tooling across different automotive subjects including: the electric Jaguar I-Pace, Ginetta LMP, AMC Javelin, Ford Thunderbird just to mention a few. Then, as always, we are developing the technology behind the Scalextric racing system and have created the Scalextric Spark Plug which means you can now race your car using your phone or a tablet.

The next 85 pages are packed with new items, old favourites and not forgetting all you need to take your layout and racing experience to the next level. Please keep up to date with all our latest developments by following us on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and YouTube, or by signing up for our free E-Newsletter @ www.scalextric.com, or better still, come and meet us at one of our Scalextric events.

MAKE IT PERSONAL

Scalextric ARC Sets allow you to customise your race for a truly personal experience.

Scalextric ARC (App Race Control) is a revolutionary slot car system that allows users to wirelessly create and manage races with a handheld smart device, such as a smartphone or tablet. # FORD THUNDERBIRD

The ninth-generation of the Thunderbird marked the introduction of a highly aerodynamic body. The drag coefficient to 0.35 was the perfect basis for a racing body. Ford took advantage of that by setting new records in stock car racing.

GT/PROTOTYPE & CLASSIC GT CARS

GT cars are some of the most potently powerful cars around. They're able to race for long periods of time, often through the night, but always flat out. The GT class is a great spectacle at any race meeting, with glowing brake discs, driver changes and lights blinking into the night, they provide great racing and look fantastic!

GINETTA

With the demise of the big factory, Le Mans prototype teams 2018 saw a new raft of privateer cars come onto the global prototype racing scene. One such new entrant was the British based Ginetta. With the striking chrome livered G60-LT-P1 the firm has made a bold statement from the start, and the car went as well as it looked, doing well on its debut at the prestigious 24 hours Le Mans.

TOURING CARS

One of the closest forms of motorsport around, touring cars look like your everyday cars, but supped up and stripped down. Ready to fight on the race track and, thanks to Scalextric, on your home circuit too. Tough and durable, these cars are well suited to the contact and rough racing synonymous with touring cars.

SCALEXTRIC

JAGUAR I-PACE

A new and exciting race series supporting Formula E in 2019, the Jaguar I-Pace E-Trophy sees identical Jaguar I-Paces pitched into close battle on various street circuits around the world. Scalextric's first ever electric car, the I-Pace is a tough, good looking and exciting machine for you to race at home! And being electric it shares such a strong synergy with Scalextric!

Designed by the legendary Colin Chapman for the 1962 Grand Prix season, the Lotus 25 was a revolution in Formula One car design. Combining the first fully stressed monocoque to appear in Formula One, with a powerful Climax 1.5 litre V8, in the hands of the famous Jim Clark, the car proved to be the class of the field, finishing 2nd in its debut season, 1st in 1963 and 3rd in 1964. Today they are campaigned successfully at historic GP events and now you too at home can drive the car that gave Jim Clark his first Formula One world championship.
